

Frame your success of being CTR certified

Framing Success® frames allow easy, do-it-yourself document insertion, so there is no need to send your valued certificate. All certificate frames, which are handcrafted at their own facility in Virginia, are delivered ready for hanging display and feature genuine brass plated fittings. Plus, all frames feature matboard that meets the United States Library of Congress standards for document preservation. Both the top and middle mat boards are true conservation quality, encasing the document and providing ultimate protection against external contaminants.

Order yours today and frame your success of being CTR certified! For more information on frames or a product description, go to <www.framingsuccess.com>.
